OVERVIEW

Built in 1919 by the Pennsylvania Railroad, the impressive New York's Hotel Pennsylvania is one of New York City's largest hotels. Designed by the renowned firm McKim, Mead and White, the Neo-Renaissance style hotel is located near Manhattan's historic Herald Square. The hotel's renowned Café Rouge Ballroom has played host to many of the Big Band Era's greats including the Dorsey Brothers, Count Basie, Duke Ellington, and the Glenn Miller Orchestra, who forever immortalized the hotel and its phone number in the 1938 hit "Pennsylvania 6-5000". Today, the hotel is often used as a set for numerous television and movie productions.

LOCATION

The hotel offers all visitors an outstanding Midtown Manhattan location. Situated across Seventh Avenue from Madison Square Garden and Amtrak's Pennsylvania Station, it is just minutes away from many international corporations and the Jacob Javits Convention Center. New York City's famous Fashion District and world-class shopping venues are nearby. Macy's Herald Square, the world's largest department store, is just one short block away. Guests will find many other attractions within walking distance, including the Empire State Building and the Broadway Theatres.

BUILDING

The hotel has 1,700 rooms. Guest rooms feature new furniture and carpeting, a work desk with reading lamp, large color television with cable, pay-per-view movies, express check out and web TV, AM/FM clock radio, telephones with voice mail, individual AC and climate control, iron and ironing board and hair dryer. All rooms are equipped with a high security guest room key card system.

Our Penn 5000 Club Level rooms are ideal for the corporate business traveler. In addition to the comforts of our standard guestrooms, corporate rooms feature high-speed Internet, improved lighting, ergonomic seating, refrigerator, cordless speaker phone and CD player. There is also a club lounge with complimentary breakfast for our Penn 5000 guests. New York's Hotel Pennsylvania Penn 5000 Club is "Your Office in New York City!"

CONFERENCE CENTER

There are 11 meeting/banquet rooms including three ballrooms. Adjoining the hotel is the Penn Pavilion Conference Facility. Together 90,000 square feet of meeting space is available. Our ballrooms can handle up to 1,000 guests. Our Executive Conference Center features an Executive Boardroom.

FITNESS FACILITIES

Whether you keep a strict workout schedule, or need to unwind after a long day, our Fitness Center located on the 19th floor will help boost your energy level. With just the right amount of equipment to get you moving, we make it easy for you to include a workout routine in your stay. In addition, guests may arrange for passes for Bally's Health Club, a private fitness center located next door to the hotel. The club offers five floors of state of the art fitness equipment and an Olympic size indoor swimming pool. A nominal daily fee is charged to guests of the hotel.

LOBBY & TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

Large and spacious with a grand ambience, the hotel lobby efficiently accommodates large numbers of people comfortably. Express check-out is also available, along with a separate group tour desk. Penn 5000 guests enjoy a dedicated separate check-in lounge. The lobby based theatre and transportation desk provides a variety of guest services. These include arranging airport limousine transfers and offering sightseeing tours.
